

Changes

1 Removal of edit button on home page

The edit button was originally intended to allow entry into edit mode, which then allows trip destinations to be edited or deleted. However, through our implementation we found that its functionality could be more conveniently provided through the familiar swipe gesture. In the updated design, users simply swipe left to delete a destination and swipe right to edit it, saving the need for learning extra UX s